Choir and Orchestra,

Wow—what a wonderful response from our congregation to the worshipful words of "I Will Rise." I can generally tell by your countenance if the congregation has stood to their feet... they must have been up early on Sunday morning, because your faces were so expressive and glowing! I think we're getting it, slowly but surely as we make His praise glorious. Speaking of that... do you ever invite someone to come and participate in worship with us here at the 9:15 service? We "graduate" more worshippers out of our service up to the ultimate worship destination than the 10:50, don't we? We're also likely to graduate a bunch of 6th graders and their parents out of the 9:15 service. Add that with the fact that I think we become a little more comfortable with our built relationships from church through the years, and we don't invite anyone to join the party AND we decline in attendance. I believe our worship experience is better than ever at 9:15. Please join me in trying to get the word out!

Have you invited someone to come and sing with us for July 4th? It will be a great time to jump in and be a part even if they can't sing all the time. I'm looking forward to having everyone together in one service. Remember that we are not having ABF's that day, so the 10:45 service is the only thing happening.

Notice that we have a few weeks coming up this summer where we will not have rehearsal. I hope that this will help you out. I am so thankful for your service to the Lord through choir. Without a doubt, most of us have summer travel plans and for that we should be thankful. Just know I hope that you'll join us when you are in town. I know it may seem at times that you don't make a difference as part of a large choir. But the truth is YOU do! It takes everyone of us pulling together to be our very best.
